4. Treating Ebola in Africa	Jamal K. Gwathney, MD, MPH, FAAFP Commander, U.S. Public Health Service Clinical Director Melissa Thun introduced Dr. Gwathney. He is currently the Clinical Director of the Metropolitan Correctional Center, San Diego Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP). He also holds the rank of Commander within the United States Public Health Service. He provides the clinical leadership for the entire institution and is the final authority on all clinical decisions. He holds a faculty position as a voluntary Assistant Clinical Professor with UCSD. Dr. Gwathney introduced Paul Nordstrom, RN who was also assigned as medical staff to treat Ebola patients in Liberia. Their slides were informal and copies are not available. However, a summary of their presentation can be found below: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The US Public Health Service’s mission is to protect, promote, and advance the health and safety of the United States. • The US deployed about 3000 government personnel to West Africa. It was the first time the United States government provided direct service to treat Ebola, and it was the largest ever US government response to a global health crisis. The staff had 20 nurses, 10 clinicians, 4 pharmacists, 6 behavior health specialists, logisticians, prev med/safety staff (who were lauded as having worked the hardest), and admin/finance).

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Dr. Gwathney’s team was part of the Monrovia Medical Unit that had 12 tents to serve as an Ebola treatment center. Patients were health care workers from Liberia or United States citizens who were infected with Ebola. • The team served 18 patients, 13 of whom survived. This was a survival rate that was almost more than double other Ebola treatment centers. • Safety considerations included a buddy system, pre med/safety officer protocols, and one-on-one doffing procedures (the most important step). There were no high-risk exposures during the entire mission. However, there was also a discussion of “altered standards of care,” such as not providing CPR because of the risk of high transmission. • The audience thanked the presenters for their work and service
5. State-purchased Influenza Vaccine Program Update	Announcer: Karen Waters-Montijo, Chief of Epidemiology and Immunizations Services Branch, County of San Diego Health and Human Services Karen encouraged those with State Flu vaccines to continue with flu vaccinations and accountability. Accurate inventory must be kept because this year’s numbers will determine vaccine allocation in the following year. If clinics and practices have an abundant supply that may not be used, they can return them to the Immunization Branch, who can then redistribute them to other sites who could need them.
6. SDIR Updates	Presenters: Rob Wester, Registry Manager and Manny Mones, Provider Quality Improvement Manager San Diego Immunization Program Rob discussed the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SDIR Upgrade <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - March through May - Periodic off-line times and will try for Friday’s after 5:30P • SDIR and San Diego Health Connect/Health Information Exchange communication upgrade • SDIR updates <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Providers/Clinics should continue to provide the SDIR/TB Disclosures to their patients/clients - Request that providers/clinics “SEND-SECURE” when sending PHI to SDIR - Health and Safety Code 120440 - provide “disclosure” to patient regardless of confidentiality choice - TB Test Results – sharable soon, waiting on 5 organizations for confirmation
